projects

AI-Powered Learning Platform 🌐

StudyQ is an AI-based smart study assistant developed to help students learn more effectively. The system allows users to upload study materials such as PDF files and notes, which are used to answer questions and explain concepts using Large Language Models (LLMs).

Backend-ledger 🌐

secure backend system built with Node.js, Express, and MongoDB featuring user authentication using JWT, bcrypt, and dotenv. It includes login/register APIs with protected routes and scalable architecture for ledger or transaction-based applications.

Image Editor Web Application (JavaScript) 🌐

Developed a client-side image editor using HTML5 Canvas and vanilla JavaScript, enabling real-time image filtering (brightness, contrast, saturation, blur, grayscale, sepia, etc.), preset effects, image reset, and export functionality.

Kanban 🌐

This project is a web-based, interactive Kanban board application built from scratch using core front-end technologies. It visually represents the workflow process by using columns for stages (e.g., "To Do", "In Progress", "Done") and cards for individual tasks.
